THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

February 15, 2019

PRESIDENTIAL DECLARATION OF NATIONAL EMERGENCY.

After months of discussion, the actual emergency exists, and by the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and including my authority as Commander in Chief of the United States, I hereby declare a national emergency on the Southern border and direct the following:

1. To redirect funds from the federal government to build as much wall as it will take to fill the void in my heart to only a cheering crowd can fill.
2. Military seizing of land and property from the border, in the name of conservative, limited government.
3. Start dangerous precedent of declaring national emergencies whenever I'm tired of following the Constitution that I swore an oath to protect and defend.
